Other Business
Transitioning away from the NREMT exam	What is the feeling of the board on leaving the NREMT exam? Not a test problem as much as an education and test prep issue. Although there is a lot of local support based on perception. It would be very expensive for PA to re-establish a cognitive exam (about $2.5M). Would negatively impact PA as a COMPACT state and providers from other states coming to PA and conversely, PA providers going to other states. PEHSC will be developing a comprehensive position statement on this issue.	Straw poll of board: To support the continued use of the NREMT exam for all levels of certification. Result: Overwhelming support for the continued use of the NREMT cognitive exam.
EMS Conference 2022 and 2023 Update	Andy Snavelly provided an update on the 2022 conference and planning of the 2023 conference: 2023 PA State EMS Conference September 5-8, 2023 Virtual delivery format Need support from council members to assist us in keeping the conference free to providers – please talk to your vendors!
